Yesterday afternoon a rifle contest was held between the Council Bluffs rifle club and the Omaha rifle club. Each club picked one man, and Mr. Sackett represented the Council Bluffs club and F. Fuller the Omaha club. The match was for $25 and Mr. Sackett won by a score of 209 to 189. The range was 200 yards, off hand, and the regulation eight-

Officer Crafts was reported to have been temporarily suspended last night by Chief Carey. It is alleged that the lay-off was due to the desire for an official inquiry into the officer's free use of his club while arresting Hans Hansen. Crafts found it necessary to club the man severly before he would submit arrest, and the fellow was very pugnacious when brought to the station. morning Hansen was fined $15.70 by Police Judge McGee.

The fire department was called out yester day by an alarm from box 42, occasioned by the burning of some grass on West Sixteenth street. An alarm was sent in at 7 o'clock last evening from box 61, on the corner of Mills and Seventh street, but it was a false alarm. A. B. Walker had a small blaze started in his dining room during the morn-ing by the accidental contact of some clothing with the open grate, and several dollars damage was done, but no alarm was turned A small blaze on Lincoln avenue that partially destroyed a barn completed the fire record for the twenty-four hours.

Will Repair the Old Levee. When the city council met last night, chiefly for the purpose of discussing the levee problem, the mayor and all the members but Lacy were present with an audience of citizens that filled the room. The committee of the whole had spent several. hours during the afternoon discussing the problem, and reported when they convened as a council. The report was that the matter be postponed indefinitely, and the members unanimously concurred in it.

The back and express wagon ordinance was taken up and passed. It provides that express men may stand their vehicles on any public highway provided they do not stop within 100 feet of seat of the standard feet. within 100 feet of each other, and not more than two to stand together.

A motion was made to strike from the texbooks the Union avenue and Thirteenth street sewers special taxes on the ground that they were general sewers and should be paid for by general taxation. The motion was carried. An effort was made to reconsider the matter, but failed.

Among the suditors deeply interested in deorge F and T. J. Evans, and the proposals to repair the old levee were discussed upon their sug-gestion. Colonel Daily spoke earnestly in favor of building the new levee, or at least Stewart was called upon to elucidate the legal points that befudded the aldermanic brain. He announced that the city could levy a tax on sewer district No. 2 to defray the cost of the work. Colonel Daily endeav-ored to get him to declare that the city could held responsible for any damage that might occur from an overflow if the levee was not repaired.

Alderman Casper opposed the motion of Alderman Knepher to award the contract for the work to the lowest bidder on the grounds that the members of the council would be or could be, held liable for the costs, and that the majority of the taxpayers were not in favor of it. At this intimation of the alder-man's feelings T. J. Evans arose and offered to give bonds indemnifying the city and the alderman and agreeing to pay the tax of every person in sewer district No. J who was small enough to refuse to pay for his own protection. Before he ceased speaking George F. Wright was on his feet warmly making the same pledge and offering to execute a $20,000 bond, if necessary, to fulfill the agreement. The proposition elicited warm applause. Judge McGee and others spoke in favor of the work and the council was about to accept the pledges of the gentlemen, when Alderman Everett declared that the acceptance of the proposition was simply child's play, and if the work was necessary to preserve the property of citizens in district No. 2 he did not desire to see two enterprising citizens compelled to shoulder all the responsibility. After a good deal of discussion the matter reached a the aldermen but Casper voted in favor of it, and the motion to award the contract to the lowest bidder was carried, engineer was directed to tabulate the The contract will be awarded at the next Colonel Daily presented the following reso-

"Resolved. By the city council of the city of Council Bluffs that the mayor and aldermen of said city constitute a committee to at once confer with the directors of the Omaha and Council Bluffs Rallway and Bridge company for the purpose of obtaining from said company a 5 cent commutation ticket over its line between the cities of Council Bluffs and Omaha.

The resolution was adopted and Colonel Dailey was added to the committee, which will meet the railway officials in Omaha at the annual meeting, December 19.

Contractor Hubes was allowed $900 on en gineer's estimate of work done on the Indian creek sewer ditch. Estimates for grading and side walks in favor of T. O'Heam and others were presented and allowed. On motion of Alderman Wood all contrac tors will hereafter be required to place their signatures on the contract books in the city A petition signed by a number of citizens was presented asking to endorse the Haight fire escape and recommend their use in all

Assignment of the Council Bluffs Paint and Oil Company.

ASSETTS EXCEED THE LIABILITIES.

The Failure Due to Difficulties in Collecting the Book Accounts-Neola Saloons Enjoined-Minor Mention.

Almost a sensation was created yesterday morning by the announcement that the Council Bluffs paint and oil company had made an assignment for the benefit of its creditors. The assignment was made on Saturday afternoon and filed for record in the auditor's office after 6 o'clock, and was thus kept from the public until yesterday morning. The assignment is to George Metcalf and covers all the stock, fixtures and book accounts of the Company,

The liabilities are fixed at $7,831.38 and assets at $17,000, described as stock and furni-ture, $10,000; book accounts, $7,000. The largest items of indebtedness are:

The firm is composed of S. H. Foster and H. A. Greene, and they are among the most popular and best known business men in the city. They have been doing business on the ower floor of the Masonic temple for the past five years, and have had an immense wholesale and retail trade. The cause of the failure is assigned to difficulty in making collections, which is evidenced by the large book account, every dollar of which is said to be as good as bank notes. Immediately after the assignment was nade S. H. Foster made another assignment overing all of his personal and real estate property not subject to execution in favor of its creditors. This includes the $16,000 flats erected last summer on the corner of First avenue and Eighth street, and a large amount of other real estate. This assignment is also made to Mr. Metcalf.

The assurance that has been given that the mbarrasssment is only temporary will be recived by the friends of the popular young store was closed yesterday and an invoice of the stock was being taken. It will be completed today and the store will be opened again tomorrow under the old name, it being certain that the embarrassment will be past

HENRY EISEMAN & CO.

The above note to THE BEE advertising man, written by Mr. Simon Eiseman on a telegraph blank, was the invitation to the reporter sent to enjoy an hour in rambling through the half mile of aisles on the five floor of the Eisemans' great commercial palace. The hour was insufficient to see all but enough was noted to support Mr. Eiseman's assertion that there was no person about the building who could find time write advertisements without neglecting patient customers On the first floor Saturday afternoon there was scarcely standing room. The ladies were making their purchases of dress goods from the great display of rare bargains for the holiday trade. It was as busy a scene as Council Bluffs ever witnessed. Clerks were almost concealed behind the piles and stacks of goods that had been taken down to suit the varying tastes the varying Every loom of the shoppers. Every loom in the civilized world had contributed to the stock, and the lady who did not buy had no excuse to plead except the single one that she had already bought too much for her purse in some of the other departments.

The greatest attraction was on the third floor, which is devoted whally to the toy de-partment and the holiday goods. Of itself tis as large as two ordinary stores, but every foot of room that was not taken up by the crowds of people was occupied by stacks of goods designed for presents. Santa Claus, the real live old gentleman in fiesh and blood, was there making his way through the crowd followed by troops of happy children. The hundreds of visitors were unstitting in their commendations of the elegant exhibit, and the children especially were exuberant in their exclamations of delight at the many things peculiarly attractive to them. Santa Claus was in all his glory and the kindly old king of the juvenile heart was followed about as heled the way from one attractive exhibit to another by a band of enthusiastic children who abundantly assured him of their love and loyalty what did he show them? A brilliant display of an almost endless variety of toys a de-partment which is a verifable museum of curiosities embracing everything that the genius of invention has brought out for the amusement of the children. The mechanical and steam toys were particularly attractive and elicited the most vociferous ex-clamations of delight from the little ones. While Santa Claus was escorting the ju-veniles through the crowded and beautifully arranged departments allotted to them, the arranged cepartments anotted to them, the older visitors were finding gratification in an inspection of the superb stocks in which there are hundreds of appropriate gifts for gentlemen, young and old, anique and desirable presents for ladies of all ages, and many articles useful and beautiful, which are

On the second floor is displayed the finest and largest line of cloaks and jackets to be found in any house in the west.
